The GCIS On-Line (Tourism) Information Guide...

Has been providing information about the Gulf Coast since 1995. One of the first websites to do so. Just do a google search on "Mississippi Gulf Coast" and you will see us listed (Consistently) in the top 5. Or a search on "Mississippi Gulf Coast Casinos" or Hotels. And now moving up for the other regions we cover.

There are many sites similar in content but ours is not necessarily Ad sponsored (We DO have some ads but they dont keep us afloat). This site has always contained free information in an effort to promote our area. Especially the smaller businesses such as charter boat fishing. While many believe the Gulf Coast primarily is a Casino driven environment, our other attractions allow many varied visitors...and locals fun and entertainment.

We hope you will approve of our new look. The new site contains much of the same information but organized differently and allows us to add information much quicker.

Our integration into the network of GulfCoast Go Sites allows us to share information between sites without overloading the reader.

Our goal is to provide accurate and timely information. Please feel free to email us information on events. This information will be distributed among the network sites for increased visibility!

Please bear with us as this site is fully brought back online in its new format, errors corrected, information updated.

Submitting information to be listed is easy...and free for basic listings. Email us at gcis@gulf-coast.com. Also send us corrections to any errors.

With the effects of Hurricane Katrina lingering there will be much information changing. Yet much rebuilding and growth, not just to the region but this website.

Some of you may recognize this old logo, but it continues to be true.

The Staff at GCIS hope you find everything you want on the Gulf Coast.
